Corbus' strategic sourcing and procurement solutions are tailored to your unique needs to help drive cost savings, increased efficiency, and improved compliance. We actively engage client stakeholders, addressing complex challenges. All of our service solutions can be custom configured to fit each client's existing processes, organization, and technology infrastructure.

Strategic Sourcing Services: Corbus uses best-in-class processes to help our clients reduce costs and drive efficiency across both their direct and indirect spends. Our solutions boost profits through savings in product and operational costs, while improving speed and efficiency to deliver a whole new level of operational transparency and control.

By identifying category specific opportunities, we implement cost and process improvements throughout the supply chain. We identify unmanaged or wasteful spending, supporting your efforts to eliminate all unnecessary costs.

Inefficiencies
in your supply chain can increase your operating costs by up to

Procurement Services: Corbus' customized end-to-end procurement services boost speed, accuracy, and efficiency throughout our clients' transactional operations.

Leveraging our global footprint, Corbus is able to effectively manage processes for requisition, delivery, invoicing, transaction, and order to cash across multiple regions.

Robotic Process Automation: Corbus uses Robotic Process Automation to help eliminate and automate dull repetitive tasks. We drive efficiency, productivity, optimization, and speed while providing dramatic increases in accuracy, turn-around, and cycle time. From finance to procurement, IT to human resources, wherever rule-based, non-subjective processes are utilized, Corbus can help.

Corbus has been providing strategic sourcing and procurement services to Fortune 500 companies for over 20 years. Utilizing our multi-shore delivery model, Six Sigma processes, and extensive category knowledge at a local, regional, and global scale, we are able to drive significant cost reductions across our clients' spend.
